With more economic integration in Southeast Asian countries, especially rapid growth in CLMV countries (Cambodia, Laos, Myanmar and Vietnam), waste and resource management has become ever more important. Sustainable waste management requires not only technological advancement but also practical policy framework, market mechanism, financial resources and cooperation among stakeholders. Solid Waste Management Association (Thailand) in cooperation with TechnoBiz Asia and ISWA will organize the 2nd ASEAN Waste Management Forum 2017 to be a platform for sharing experiences, exchanging ideas and business opportunities among countries in Southeast Asia and Asia.
